Each successive means of wider communication seems to have evolved the answer to some need in the development world. Speech must have become necessary when ideas grew beyond primitive needs, and required expression more varied than gesture could supply. Writing must have accompanies the growth of social groups of priesthood of leadership and the dawn of literature and speculation. Priting was the medium through which the Renaissance Knowledge and spirit were spread abroad, and heralded the birth of what we call modern world, broadcasting and other forms of electrical communication have sprung up to meet the urgent requirements of a world which must perish unless it can devise an organisation capable of expressing its human and economic unity. The need for rapid interchange of news and views, for familiarizing each country with the ideas and habits of all other countries and above all the need for an education which may fit men and women, literate and illiterate. For the complicated world of tomorrow - all these needs should find in broadcasting an instrument marvelously fitted to serve them.

31. Make a Precis of the following passage in about one-third of its length and give a suitable title.

(Marks: 10)

Where there's a will there's a way', is an old saying. He who resolves upon doing a thing, by that very resolution overcomes the obstacles to it, and half secures its achievement. It is so in all the occupations of life—at school, college, or in the world. To determine to succeed is the surest way to success. Difficulties disappear before an uswerving resolution. This was well exemplified in the life of Napoleon. He threw his whole force of body and mind upon his work. He was told that the Alps stood in the way of his armies. 'There shall be no Alps', he said, and a road was made across them over heights previously considered inaccessible. 'Impossible', said he, 'is a word only to be found in the dictionary of fools'. And so it is, a determination not to give in is the surest condition of success in any undertaking. But the yound student must carefully guard hismself against the errors of mistaking a mere undisciplined energy and self-will for the needful firmness and self-command on which success depends.
